AND SO WE JUST NATURALLY BLEW THE LID RIGHT OFF THE OLD HOME TOWN!

The Celebration, Started By The Fire Department's Paul Revere Dash, Wound Up With A Big Affair In Which Everybody Participated

You can just bet your life—no, that won't do; that's too weak. Let us start again.

Not in the memory of the oldest inhabitant is there a day that—no, that won't do, either. How about his?

Biff! Bang! Boom, but that was—

As a matter of fact, what we are trying to say is that Narberth just naturally blew the lid off the borough last Monday in celebration of the Great Victory. Of course, everybody has said the same thing, but we insist on putting it down in black and white for the benefit of future historians, to wit.: Our town has never seen another day like Monday, and probably never will.

We'd also like to record for history the name of the gent, and incidentally pay tribute to the same, that started the local celebration, but everybody has been so completely engulfed in excitement and enthusiasm ever since the big noise started that it has been impossible "up to the hour of going to press," to identify the particular party and hand him the medal.

The Paul Revere Dash of the Firemen.

Take it any way you please, it was a great day for Narberth, and our people did their full share and then some in celebrating the great occasion. From the Paul Revere dash of the Fire Department up and down our streets shortly after 3 A. M., followed by Doc Howard and Mrs. Howard in their own buzz wagon, until the last note was blown by the band cornetist in front of the Y. M. C. A., after the parade was over late Monday night, it was a rare old day.

Perfectly respectable and orderly residents jumped into their clothes and dashed out into the street to sing and laugh and go calling on their neighbors. Other perfectly respectable citizens, who may be seen at the railway station any morning waiting in all their "Philadelphia dignity" for the 8.29, donned bathrobes and received "early morning guests" at 3.30 A. M., and never thought a thing about it.

Meanwhile, the fire bell was ringing as though the whole town were on fire—and so it was, with rejoicing, and the church bells were ringing, and auto horns were honking, and passing locomotives were screeching, and more houses were lighting up every minute, and the fire company apparatus and Doc Howard, all in a streaking blaze of redlight and noise were continuing their wild ride, and Count du Marais was holding a reception in front of Doc Fiedler's and receiving and extending congratulations, and all the time the noise kept getting louder and wilder, until Howard Davis got so excited he said he couldn't tell whether he was serving papers or throwing hand grenades.

A delegation of our Italian residents and fellow-citizens were on the job almost as soon as the good news reached the town, parading around with their flags and shouting the glad tidings of peace to everyone.

Everybody in the Parade.

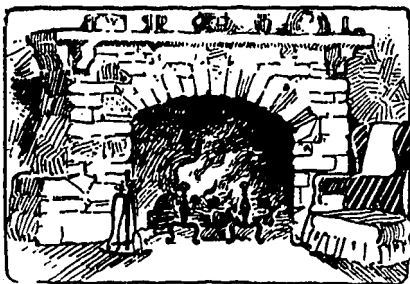

And all day long the jubilation continued. In the meanwhile the Home Guard was planning the parade which took place in the evening. And it was some big parade. Two bands, and the Home Guard, and the Red Cross workers, and Officer Hill on horseback acting as chief marshal, assisted by Chief Flag Bearer Howard Fritsch, and men, women and children, and then more men, women and children, and automobiles, and then everybody else in town not included in the foregoing groups.

Before the parade started speeches were made from the balcony of the Y. M. C. A. by Rev. Van Ness and Rev. Grey, and W. R. D. Hall, president of Council.

It sure was a great day and a great night.

On Wednesday, November 6th, the Narberth Circle of King's Daughters, held first monthly meeting, in the basement of the Evangel Baptist Church.

The attendance was not as large as usual, owing to illness and various other causes—but the members present enjoyed their re-union, after the summer recess, and also enjoyed and did full justice to a good luncheon. After lunch an important business meeting was held, during which financial matters were attended to, and the winter's work arranged.

All agreed that they would gladly mend clothes for our soldiers, at the regular monthly meeting.

The King's Daughters wish to announce that they expect to hold their Autumn Rummage Sale, on Friday, November 22nd, and would be very grateful for donations of any kind, for that purpose.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

"Der Tag" Day is Saturday.

Read below of your opportunity.

This Saturday, November 16, should go down in the history of Narberth as "Der Tag" on which every family gave of their ready cash in appreciation of the efforts of our local Young Men's Christian Association to serve all of the better interests of our residents. Women and Girls the only pleaders.

Not the Board of Directors or the usual committee of men hitherto to be held essential in promotion of a financial appeal, but the Ladies' Auxiliary directing a loyal corps of Narberth girls are hoping to go "Over the Top" with cash donations commensurate with their efforts and interest in this "TAG DAY" for the benefit of the Narberth Y. M. C. A.

Will Canvass Homes and Meet Trains

The girls' section of the campaigners will call at each home in Narberth with a supply of the official tags and a box into which each person who is tagged may place as small or as large a cash contribution as they feel the appeal warrants.

Each mid-day commuters' train will be met by other girls, thereby giving the men their opportunity to aid in making firm the financial foundation of this institution. All who read this article will be given their choice in one of these two ways if physically possible, and each worker will be encouraged as each person tagged gives to the limit of their pocket wealth.

One man saw his obligation voluntarily.

Just the other day a man stepped into the secretary's office and introduced himself as a member wishing to pay his dues for the year. In the course of the conversation he mentioned the fact that he traveled and spent a very short time in Narberth, making it impossible to take part in association activity, but that he felt membership dues a just obligation on his shoulders as a citizen of Narberth. He then asked how the general financial condition of our association stood at this time, and on being told conservation during war times had prevented a campaign for contributing.

EDITORIAL

Beginning this issue, OUR TOWN will be issued every Saturday instead of Thursday. The publishers who have until this issue, printed OUR TOWN have gone out of business, and the new concern who have taken up the printing for us can arrange for Saturday only as the date of publication. Consequently it will be well for our contributors to know that they may send in reading items up until Wednesday noon.

Narberth folks were scarce on Monday, in their home town. The good Peace news drew them into the city, where life was topsy turvy for a day.

To the Editor of Our Town:

Dear Sir—I wonder why the Victory parade on Monday evening slighted Narberth avenue between Windsor and Woodbine? This, I believe, is regarded as one of the main thoroughfares of the town, and this block presented a much brighter appearance than did many others on the route. Besides, there are at least nine service stars in this block, representing Robert Town, Earl Dickie, Lester Jefferies, Horace Smedley, Benjamin Durbin, Robert Durbin, William Durbin, a brother of C. L. Metzgar, and Carl Weyman (whose wife is now at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jefferies).

CURIOUS, THAT'S ALL.

CUB'S WEEKLY LETTER

To the Editor of Our Town:

The Narberth Home Guard was the first local organization to celebrate the signing of the armistice, or at least the rather premature announcement of the fact. Although we found later that the news was phony, the Guard proved that its heart was in the right place by parading in honor of the occasion last Thursday night. Headed by the gallant Captain Hartley and the Guard's own band, the latter consisting of Boy Scout Patten, who was abusing a cornet, and Tax Collector Ray Jones, resplendent in his summer furs, banging a drum, these doughty heroes, like Napoleon's Army, marched up the hill and down again, only unlike the great French soldier, they repeated the operation several times. At frequent intervals the Captain halted his company and fired a blank cartridge salute. In order to get his name in the paper, probably, the Captain stopped the gang in front of my door and made such a racket that it woke the baby, whom I had just put to sleep after working on the job for about two hours. Men of families can appreciate my feelings when I say I was keeping house alone with the infant that evening.

One of the officers of high rank, in fact very rank, said he was not greatly impressed with Narberth's patriotism as manifested that evening. To quote his words, "You might think we were marching through a Chinese graveyard for all the signs of life and enthusiasm that was shown by the Home Towners." It wasn't until the parade reached Woodbine avenue that they received any welcome and it was left for our public spirited and patriotic Italian fellow citizens to show up the rest of the town. These boys from the land of macaroni and olive oil joined in the procession with a will, showing that they at least, were fully alive to and appreciated all the portentous history-making events of the times. After what these same fellow-citizens did at the late Narbrook Fair, there isn't any room for doubt as to who are the real live ones of Narberth; after last Saturday night's parade there is less doubt than ever.

If you see it in the Ledger—Guess again!

Of course nobody can have much sympathy for the Postmaster since he continues that left-handed door arrangement, which results in directing Post Office traffic in a sort of figure 8 formation and makes the new place more inconvenient than the old. He complains that the lobby continues to resemble the forum of a debating society, which not only annoys the clerks but interferes with box holders. It is true many people stand right in your way and gab when you are trying to get through and although there is never anything in your box but bills and circulars, you have a feeling that someone is going to send you money one of these days and you intend to be right on the job when it comes. There's another pest, whom it may have been your misfortune to encounter. I refer to the fellow who opens his box and keeps it open while he stands in front of it and reads his mail, although there are half a dozen holders of adjacent boxes waiting for him to get out of the way so they may get their mail. Now, then, I propose that we compromise with the Postmaster. Let's hire a hall for the gab-festers so that they may abandon the Post Office lobby as a place to air their troubles—but only on condition that Ed. Haws fixers up those doors so that we may enter and leave the building in the good old Republican way; namely by keeping to the right. Will not some kind reader comment on this proposal?

An ideal marriage is a duel. The Pessimist says the average marriage is a duel.

The firm of Caldwell & Co. has sent its list of Narberth houses to "Kaiser Bill and Emperor Karl." John ought to be more careful in selecting neighbors for us. Anything for the money though, I suppose.

Have you noticed Constable Walzer wearing a crutch?

memberships, thereby necessitating the carrying of a large floating debt that is now becoming most urgent, voluntarily contributed a sum in excess of his membership, saying, "If the Home Work is not supported to the fullest extent the War Work would not be possible."

A worthwhile example was set by this friend which should be followed by all those who have the best interests of our community at heart, and that, surely, is every resident.

BOWLING

Narberth Bowling Club defeated the Paoli Men's Club at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday, October 23, all three games.

Mr. Shank, Paoli's best bowler and anchor man, was missing from the line-up. We regret his loss, as I believe he was the only bowler in the Main Line League to die of influenza.

Narberth's new line-up appears to be the right "dope." Assistant Captain "Doc" Hartley ran the team. It must have taken a lot of self-denial on "Doc's" part to keep himself on the side lines, as "Doc" is rolling strong.

Every man rolled true to form. We cannot give too much praise to our new bowlers, Walker, Goski and Hale, as you can see by their averages.

Narberth has won ten games straight. Three from Paoli, Rosemont and Bryn Mawr Fire, and one from Wayne Men's Club.

Don't forget Monday nights are practice nights. We want all bowlers in town to come out and roll. It is good sport and will keep you "fit."

We don't want to crow too early in the season, but it looks as if Narberth might come through this year. Come down some bowling night and watch the team.

Reputation and Character.

Reputation is what men think you are, character is what you are. Both are important, but character is indispensable to success. Without character you are not likely to have a good reputation—very long.

Meanness Hard to Overcome.

Some men's meanness consists of their stinginess with their means. When they give up their meanness they will be willing to give up more of their means. Such men, however, are pretty hard to convert.

Daily Thought.

Fear not, lest existence closing your account and mine shall know the like no more. The eternal Saki from that bowl has poured a million bubbles and will pour.—Omar.

To Outwit the Pickpocket.

The haunting fear of being held up and left penniless out in a strange world is done away with by a little device so small that it may be carried on the key-ring, where no self-respecting holdup man would think of looking. It has a capacity of one reserve bill. The bill, whether a one or a hundred, when closely rolled, fits into the barrel of the holder. A man who has lost his keys might become excited if the holder contained a thousand-dollar bill, but the average citizen can use the device safely enough. —Popular Science Monthly.

Became Masons During War.

The following are but a few of the Masons who became distinguished during the Civil war: McClellan, Hancock, Logan, Pickett, Garfield, McKinley, Albert Pike, Miles and Gen. John Corson Smith of Illinois. The latter was noted as a Masonic writer and author, and served in the Civil war in every grade from private to brigadier general. Later he became lieutenant governor of Illinois and general grand master of the Grand Lodge of Illinois and grand master of Grand Encampment Knights Templars of America. —Proceedings Grand Lodge of Quebec, 1916.

Object Lesson.

Staid and serious Mary felt keenly responsible for the deportment of her younger sister, Margaret, who was entirely lacking in a sense of decorum. At a children's party one afternoon Mary was horrified to see her sister chewing gum with all the vigor and abandon of her nature. Hastily sweeping the offender into a corner, Mary pointed out a third little guest who was managing her stick of gum with commendable moderation and restraint. "Margaret," she said severely, "I want you to notice how a lady chews gum."

Pulse in Animals.

The normal pulse beats per minute in the domestic animals are as follows: Horses, 36 to 42; cattle, 38 to 50; sheep, goats and hogs, 70 to 80; and dogs, 80 to 100. The pulse beats faster in young than in old animals. Excitement and a nervous temperament may cause a more rapid pulse. When exercising and immediately after, the rate is higher than when the animal is at rest.

Tall Trees.

The tallest of California's "big trees" is three hundred and twenty-five feet in height, but among the great gum trees of Australia, not to mention British Columbia's great firs, many specimens are more than four hundred feet in height, and one, which was felled in southeast Australia, measured four hundred and seventy-one feet—the tallest tree on record.

Special Clothes for Motorists.

It was in 1900 that a well-known tailor in Chicago introduced specially designed clothing for motorists. His announcement read in part as follows: "We can furnish a leather chauffeur's suit, jacket, trousers, cap and goggles complete in any color found in kid gloves at $50 the outfit."

THE GREATEST OPPORTUNITY OF ALL

Owing to the opening of vast new oil fields, oil operators from all over the country are rushing to Kentucky, and the State is SEETHING WITH EXCITEMENT. Kentucky oil wells produced, in 1917, for their shareholders more than

TEN MILLION DOLLARS

and the present year will see still larger returns. Some experienced men anticipated these conditions and the

BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY

several months ago secured a vast acreage of well selected territory, which gives every indication of being highly productive. The BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY is organized under the laws of Delaware. Capital stock $250,000 all common, full-paid and non-assessable. The properties comprise 1350 acres in Rowan County and 960 acres in Clay County, Kentucky. These holdings have been purchased outright and are OWNED BY THE COMPANY. NO LEASES, NO RENTALS, NO ROYALTIES. We are close to production, pipe lines and refineries. Kentucky crude oil is in great demand and is of the highest grade. We are not seeking your subscriptions for the purpose of buying lands. OUR LANDS HAVE BEEN BOUGHT AND PAID FOR. We want your subscriptions to DRILL WELLS and thereby make money for all of the shareholders. We want to begin drilling AT ONCE and the BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY makes its first limited offering of its treasury shares at TEN CENTS PER SHARE. We give notice now that the next offering of these shares will be at FIFTEEN CENTS, and your orders will have to be received promptly in order to take advantage of the present offer of TEN CENTS. You can participate in the success of the BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY if you act promptly. BOSTON KENTUCKY is a conservative company, managed by oil men who know how to produce oil. Our acreage is unusually large and our capitalization is unusually small. BUY YOUR SHARES NOW BEFORE DRILLING BEGINS. THE PRICE GOES UP AS THE DRILL GOES DOWN. Send your subscriptions, which will be entered in the order received, to Life's Quiet Places.

Without the silence of life there can be no true greatness, and no man can be great in the hours of expression and daily activity unless he has first been great in the silent places of his individual life.—Theodore Lyman Frost.

Dogs' Claim on Humanity.

Canine capacity for untiring and un-failing loyalty is the dog's strongest hold on human friends and protectors. It is the quality which gives dogs their greatest advantage over all other animals as pets.

A Chronic Disease.

It is like getting a letter from home to pick up an old-town newspaper and find the men who were chasing political office ten years ago still engaged in the sport.—Toledo Blade.

Jackson's Masonic Record Lost.

General Jackson was a noted Mason of the War of 1812, and it is claimed that he received his Masonry in an army lodge. As a matter of fact, no absolute record has ever been found of when and where Andrew Jackson was made a Mason. He afterward became grand master of the Grand Lodge of Tennessee. It is believed that the records of a lodge in Tennessee which were burned years ago would show it.

Teach Children Correct Speech.

After all, the best place to carry on a campaign for better speech is right in the home with the little circle that three times a day gathers about the dining room table, or perhaps it is only the kitchen table, it makes no difference, and the same little circle which in the evening gathers about the hearth. For it is the speech which we hear about us at home that clings to us through life.—Exchange.

Sammie Knew.

"Sammie," said the visitor, "do you know why people use the expression, 'blue Monday'?"

"Sure," said Sammie, "that was the day I spilled the bluing on ma's lace curtains when the lady came to wash."

SEA ELEPHANTS.

"Good-day," said Mrs. Sea Elephant, as she saw Mrs. Sarah Sea Elephant. "How are you today?"

"Nicely thank you, and how about yourself?"

"Well indeed," said Mrs. Sea Elephant, generally known as Mrs. Sea.

"They say there are going to be great days ahead and that if every Mr. Sea Elephant doesn't get the Mrs. Sea Elephant he wants there'll be a battle," said Mrs. Sarah Sea Elephant.

"Isn't that glorious?" said Mrs. Sea.

"That's the sort of a Sea Elephant mate I have. And so have you. When other Mr. Sea Elephants got in the way of our Mr. Sea Elephants before they had asked us to marry them, they quickly fought and got them out of the way."

"Yes," said Mrs. Sarah, "I wouldn't give a fig for a husband who wouldn't fight for me."

"Dear me," said Mrs. Sea, "I don't think you're saying much, for what in the world, or the sea, does a fig mean to you?"

"That's so," agreed Mrs. Sarah, "a fig doesn't mean anything to me. Gracious, no! Why a fig would be lost in the sea and figs most certainly don't mean anything to me, the little silly, sticky things."

"Why did you say that?" asked Mrs. Sea.

"I just used it as an expression and it shows how much we say without thinking. I said that absolutely without thinking, for I meant to say that I wouldn't give anything for a man who wouldn't fight for his wife."

"It's Our Big Season of the Year."

"That's better," said Mrs. Sea.

"Well, all the Sea Elephants will fight for their mates. There are lots of battles around the mating season—lots of them."

"There are indeed," said Mrs. Sarah.

"We never fight," said Mrs. Sea.

"No, ladies never do," said Mrs. Sarah. "I suppose they might and sometimes it would do a great deal of good but they never have—and custom is custom."

"They say," remarked Mrs. Sea.

"that there is one part about us which can be hurt so that we are killed."

"Yes," agreed Mrs. Sarah, "that is true."

"Tell me about it," begged Mrs. Sea.

"I would like to keep that part out of sight if dangerous enemies were around as I hear they sometimes are, with guns and rifles and other firearms."

"Yes," said Mrs. Sarah, "sometimes we are shot at. We are like seals you know and we have very useful, valuable oil in us."

"All very well," said Mrs. Sea, "but I'm not generous. I prefer to keep my oil for myself."

"So do I," said Mrs. Sarah, "only I was telling you some facts."

"Yes, go ahead," said Mrs. Sea.

"Well," continued Mrs. Sarah, "you know when the mating season comes around and we are chosen by the handsome Mr. Sea Elephants as their mates we all lie about the beach and chat and gossip and have the very best of times. It's our big season of the year."

"I've heard of folks who go to summer resorts and winter resorts and to places for the baths, or the mountain air, or for some other reason. Well, our resort is the beach and we lie upon it when it is the mating season for then we are picked out and chosen."

"We can hear the tales of adventure which the Mr. Sea Elephants have to tell us and we can talk of the new styles—though we never have any really new ones. Still we can discuss fashions and the weather and how we think the water feels and tastes this year, and all such things!"

"But," asked Mrs. Sea, "you were going to tell me about the place about us which is not protected."

"Oh yes," said Mrs. Sarah, "bullets from guns can hit us anywhere and not hurt us in the least but roll right off us, except in one spot which is soft, just above our eyes. That is the part to keep out of the range of our enemies."

"Thanks for telling me," said Mrs. Sea. "I am very glad to know it and so glad that all the rest of my big body is safe, quite safe!"

Rarest of Gifts.

One of the rarest of gifts is the ability to do a favor so as to leave no burdensome sense of obligation.

Meaning of Difficulty.

What is a difficulty? "Something that shows what we really are," was a great philosopher's answer.

Each Season Has Its Charms.

Each season has its own outdoor charm, even winter, when heavy snows cover the earth. Read Thoreau and John Burroughs and learn how the tracks of small animals on the snow's surface show the life of the woods and how the grace and shadow of twigs, the beauty and variety of the seed pods of weeds and the activity of birds cause the stroller to forget the cold, while the tinkling of small streams through a double margin of icicles is music to his ears.

Broaden Your Mind.

Brush the cobwebs out of your mind. Rid yourself of the rubbish of prejudice and prepossession. No longer be content with surface thinking, which is not thinking at all. Form the habit of looking at everything from more than one point of view. Balance, weigh, test, observe, analyze, meditate. Thus alone can you gain opinions that are really your own and really well based. Thus alone can you grow in success-winning power of mind.—Exchange.

Wanted to Know Photographer.

Arthur, aged five, was a Sunday school pupil and listened attentively to his teacher telling the class about Christ. Next day he went visiting with his mother and on the mantel was a picture of Christ, to which his mother called his attention, explaining that Christ was the subject of his lesson the previous day. After surveying the picture thoughtfully for a moment he suddenly exclaimed: "But who took it?"—Chicago Examiner.

Seek Healthy View Point.

If you desire to possess a broad, healthy point of view, observe the horde of restless, unhappy men and women who have failed to find happiness through a worship of false gods, and who find it only after having found a purpose that would effectively serve humanity. They will teach you a lesson on the futility of striving after the things that serve no useful end. Get a healthy viewpoint upon life!

All Biblical Towns.

It was at Lydda, which was "nigh unto Joppa," that Peter restored Aeneas, "who had kept his bed eight years and was sick of the palsy," and it was, of course, in Joppa itself that Peter restored Tabitha to life. Here also he lodged for a time "with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the seaside," and it was here that he saw the wonderful vision which taught him the universality of Christianity.

Care of the Telephone.

The telephone is a fine receptacle for germs of every kind, and little attention is paid to sterilizing this much-used machine. It should be washed out with alcohol as often as required, and to keep the dust out of it make a small round cover of soft leather or heavy cloth and stitch a broad ribbon around the edge, through which can be run a drawing string or elastic. Put this over the transmitter.

Well Described.

A short time ago we were discussing a friend, who, while her hair had grown white with the years, had retained a youthful figure. A few days afterward Ruth, referring to her, said, "You know who I mean, Aunt—that lady who looks so young behind and so old in front."—Chicago Tribune.

Helping at Home

YESTERDAY afternoon as I walked into Mrs. Shepherd's home just across the street, I heard her say over the telephone: "That's all I'll need today, thank you."

A few minutes later, she exclaimed, "There! I've forgotten the coffee. I must telephone at once."

I wondered, as she made a second call, which was the more important—the war or her forgotten coffee? If she had only made a list and checked off each article, I know she could have saved a telephone message. And every telephone call saved releases the telephone equipment and the time of the operator for serving the needs of the war program.

The Telephone Company is looking to women in the home to help, and it is just by avoiding "extra" telephone calls that women can do their part.
